Store clerk: Can I help you?

Customer: Yes, I was wondering if it would be possible to return this DVD.

Store clerk: Has it been opened?

Customer: Yes, it has.

Store clerk: Why are you returning it?

Customer: It won't play. I tried it in two different players.

Store clerk: Do you have your receipt?

Customer: Yes, it's right here.

Store clerk: I'm very sorry. You can't return something you bought more than 30 days ago.

Customer: It's only been 31 days. Could you please bend the rules for me this one time?

Store clerk: Sorry, but it's company policy. If I bend the rules for you, I might get fired.

Customer: This is ridiculous. May I talk to your manager?

Store clerk: I'm sorry. He isn't here right now. Would you mind waiting?

Customer: I have to go now. Tell your manager he just lost a valuable customer.

Store clerk: Sorry, I couldn't help you.

B. Listen to the conversation. Then choose the best answer to each question below.

David: Thanks for coming shopping with me, Jane. I have no idea what to get my niece for her birthday.

Jane: Glad I can help. How old is she?

David: Let me think... She is turning thirteen.

Jane: Hmm... That's a difficult age.

David: I know. What do you think I should get her?

Jane: Well, what are her interests?

David: She's really into music.

Jane: What kind?

David: Rock, mainly.

Jane: I know! You can get her a record player.

David: A record player? Don't you think that is a bit old-fashioned? Most people get their music from the Internet these days.

Jane: That's what makes it cool. Records sound better and look great. I think she'll love a record player.

David: OK! I'll give it a try. If she really hates it, she can always return it.
